Courteous Driver

Signals Win Award

A good driver, in the eyes of police especially, not only follows all traffic regulations but pays close attention to the changing scene on the streets about him.

Cecil W. Mann, 2641 Estevan, proved to be such a driver when observed the other day by Victoria police officers. All the way along Fort from Cook to Lee he drove in the proper traffic lane. When he moved toward road-centre to cross Oak Bay Junction or passed a parked vehicle, he gave proper signals.

CHILD DARTED

Near Richmond, when a small child darted away from its mother into the street, Mr. Mann braked his car and waited until the mother had rounded up the youngster and returned to the sidewalk.

Mr. Mann joins the list of drivers nominated by police of Greater Victoria as courtesy drivers, who receive tickets to home games of the Victoria Cougars and certificates from the chief of police.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

The campaign is designed to promote safety through courtesy on the highways and streets.

Co-operating with police in the campaign are Woodward Stores, Frigidaire, the Victoria Hockey Club and The Daily Colonist.

G. A. McNutt Funeral Tuesday

Funeral services for George Augustus McNutt, 58, of 816 Hutchinson Avenue, will be held at 3.30 p.m. Tuesday in Hayward's Chapel. Rev. J. A. Roberts officiating. Burial will be in Veterans' Cemetery.

Mr. McNutt, member of a pioneer Victoria family, died Wednesday in Veterans' Hospital.

He was born in Esquimalt, and was a member of the Canadian Legion, Esquimalt Branch.

Surviving are the wife, Isabella, at home; two daughters, Dolores and Joyce; three sons, Sgt. George McNutt, RCAF, Barrie, Ont.; Robert and David, at home; a granddaughter; three sisters, Mrs. Evelynne Newhamn, Esquimalt; Mrs. Jessie Davis, Qualicum Beach, and Mrs. Ann Boutillier, Dawson.

Health Parley This Week

All aspects of public health, including pediatrics, nutrition, and sanitation, will be discussed at the annual Public Health Institute conference Tuesday to Friday in the Empress Hotel.

More han 200 public health nurses, officers, health unit directors and sanitation officers are expected to attend from all provincial areas.

Members will be divided into discussion groups in their special fields.

Grindstone Island, one of the Magdalen group in the St. Lawrence Gulf, covers 1,370 acres.
